Product Notice

Following a review of products introduced at New Malden during the early 1980's, there are certain equipments where spare are parts becoming more difficult and costly to support. Materials used in the manufacture of these items have become obsolete and the cost to redesign would make the cost of future spares uneconomic in comparison to modern construction methods.

Please be advised the products listed per the attached list can no longer be supported once current stocks of these spare parts are exhausted, this is estimated to be by December 2004.

In the majority of cases where there is a product in this category, an upgrade solution will be easily achieved and would most likely be more cost effective. Please apply to your nearest Sperry Marine sales office, or view our web page www.sperry-marine.com.
